Dr. McBeth & Armageddon - Sunday 5:30 Annual White Christmas Offering - Dec. 15

BLESS THE LORD

For this past Sunday. There's just no substitute for His obvious presence. And thank the Lord for the music. Have you noticed how God has blessed us musically in a very special way the past months by bringing into our fellowship so many gifted and spiritually sensitive musicians? And the choir just keeps getting better and better. Praise the Lord for MBBC's choir and "God's Choir."

IN AURORA, COLORADO

This week I'm back at the Central Baptist Church in Aurora, Colorado where Carey Miller is pastor. This will be my fourth meeting in this great church where we always experience an unusually good revival. I know you'll be praying much for this meeting.

PREACHING AT MBBC THIS SUNDAY

Two of our own:

Curtis French, President of Cisty, Inc. (Christians in Service to Youth) involved in a preaching and teaching ministry to youth and adults alike. It's a real joy to have Curtis and his family as a part of MBBC's family. Pray for him as he ministers the Word this Sunday morning.

Bob Kaumeyer, a graduate of Dallas Theological Seminary and presently working with the Juvenile Department. Bob married one of MBBC's fine young ladies several years ago, Jana Davis, and they have been making a real contribution to our church life. I know you'll be praying for Bob as he preaches this Sunday night.

CONGRATULATIONS TO JIM JACKSON

In a year that was not exactly tailor-made for Republicans, our own Jim Jackson, a Republican, was elected to the office of County Commissioner, Precinct I. This was a real victory for Jim and I praise the Lord for another fine Christian in office. As a Christian you have a responsibility to pray for all our elected officials, and I think you, as a member of MBBC, have an added responsibility, AND PRIVILEGE, of praying for Jim.

WHITE CHRISTMAS ON ITS WAY

It may not be white with snow on the outside come December 15, but it will be white inside the Worship Center. That's the date for our SEVENTH ANNUAL WHITE CHRISTMAS. More about this later but now's the time to start praying and planning about your part in it.

INTERCESSORS, TAKE NOTE

Sharron Hogan, who was saved last Sunday, was on the Intercessory Prayer list and all who prayed for her have a share in her salvation. Both he who plants and he who reaps rejoice together. Praise the Lord for the joy of praying for the lost.

BATTLE OF ARMAGEDDON THIS SUNDAY

That's the subject Dr. J. P. McBeth will be dealing with this Sunday at 5:30 P.M. in the Old Auditorium as he continues his studies in the Book of Revelation. These are great Bible studies you can't afford to miss — so don't.

I'll look forward to seeing you next Sunday (December 1) as we continue our series of expositions from Galatians on Sunday morning and the series from Joshua, "Life of Victory" Sunday evening.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING TO ALL OF YOU. I pray that more than ever this year we'll discover the things in life that are really worth being thankful for.

Curtis E. Sez:

No sir folks, they's nothin' wrong with sayin' thank you! Thank you for not cloggin' up the entrance to the worship center — 'specially on Sunday mornins. Also thank you fer not throwin' the Sunday bulletin on the floor. They's still lots of folks leavin' worship service durin' baptism and the closin' prayer song. Stick around — might miss somethin' important — like someone's baptism. Bad weather's comin' and a fella said one time "instead of the weather affectin' our worship attendance, do you suppose our attendance coul affect the weather?" Hmmm Sincerely,
Curtis E.

Our retreat this past weekend was a great success! God really touched our hearts in creating a concern for people around us. I praise the Lord for Barry Wood in the ministry he is having and for the ministry he had with us this weekend. Pray for him in his ministry at First Baptist Church in Lubbock, in trying to reach that entire city with the gospel.

The Great Commission In Action

My special thanks to Bob and Martha Drew for allowing us to have the Senior High Fellowship in their home Sunday night. A good time was had by all!

Be sure to watch for the Sunday School department's Christmas parties which will be coming up soon.
